Chickens Make For Tasteful Dinner And Décor With New Product Line

SALT LAKE CITY, UT, May 23, 2005 -- When it comes to kitchen décor, chickens are HOT! With talk of mad cow disease and mercury poisoning from eating fish, hot is how we like our chickens – fried, baked and sautéed, to be exact! Bottman Design has a freshly-hatched line of kitchen products that combines tasteful chicken décor with tasty chicken recipes.

Recipe Journal, box and recipe cards feature the art of Vicki Bruner and Tracy Kunzler.

Bottman's "Taste Like Chicken" line of recipe journals, boxes and cards features rich, vibrant chicken illustrations, zany chicken puns and delicious chicken recipes. There's a recipe for "Stuffed Chicken Breasts" accompanied by a picture of a chicken with tissue peeking out from her bra. The recipe for "Chicken a la King" pictures a chicken sporting a Don King hairstyle and boxing gloves. "Stewed Chicken" features an obviously-angry chicken accompanied by a recipe for a delicious chicken stew. There are 16 chicken / pun / recipe combos in all, the brainchicks of illustrator Vicki Bruner and writer Tracy Kunzler who design Bottman's best-selling line of Broad Appeal greeting cards.

The Tastes Like Chicken recipe journal includes charts, a list of recipe substitutions, and conversion charts of weights and measures along with dozens of practical kitchen tips such as, "Store mushrooms in a brown paper bag instead of plastic to prevent them from getting slimy.” There are tongue-in-cheek hostess tips, too. Our favorite: “To make party clean-up faster, gently remind your husband that, statistically, very few men have been shot while doing the dishes.”

The three-ring recipe journal also contains 8 index pocket pages, 40 lined recipe pages, 8 waxed magnet pages, and 16 clear 4” x 6” recipe card pages. It retails for $24.00, and 16 page refill packs are available for just $4.00. The recipe box contains illustrations and hostess tips along with 8 index cards, 20 lined recipe cards, and four favorite chicken recipes. It retails for $15.

Tastes Like Chicken beveled-edge pads feature articulated, dangling feet!

There are four sets of 20 assorted recipe cards featuring illustrations, tips and a favorite chicken recipe that sell for $4.00 each. Tastes Like Chicken bi-level fridge magnets sell for $4.50, and magnetic fridge pads featuring movable “happy chicken legs” retail for $5.50. All are perfect gifts for teachers, moms, chefs, co-workers – all hip chicks and roosters! To find a
